Declaration

I, Siddhant Malik, a student of IILM University, Greater Noida, hereby declare that this internship report is a true record of the work I carried out at Glitz Events India as Creative Lead. The experiences, observations and learnings presented here are based on my own work during the internship period.

Acknowledgement

I sincerely thank the management and team of Glitz Events India for giving me the opportunity to work in a live, fast-paced event management environment and for trusting me with creative responsibility on a number of events. I am also grateful to my faculty at IILM University for their guidance and support, and to my colleagues and fellow team members, whose cooperation made every event a valuable learning experience.

Abstract

This report documents my internship at Glitz Events India, a luxury event management company based in Greater Noida (West). Starting in June 2026, I worked as the Creative Lead and contributed to most of the company's recent events, covering concept development, thematic decor and styling, team coordination and on-ground execution support. The report describes the organization, its services and working process, my role and responsibilities, the kind of work I handled, the skills I developed, the challenges I faced, and my overall learnings. The internship gave me practical exposure to how creative ideas are converted into well-managed, memorable events under real deadlines and client expectations.

1. Introduction

The event management industry in India has grown rapidly, driven by large weddings, destination celebrations, brand launches and corporate gatherings. Clients today expect more than logistics: they expect an experience that reflects their personality, their brand and their story. This makes creativity, planning and flawless execution equally important.

An internship in this field offers learning that classroom study alone cannot provide. Events run on fixed dates, so there is no room for second attempts. Decisions about design, budgets, vendors, timelines and guests have to be made quickly and coordinated across many people. I chose to intern at Glitz Events India to understand this process first-hand and to apply my creative thinking in a real professional setting.

Objectives of the internship

- To understand how an event management company plans and executes events end to end.
- To develop and apply creative concepts, themes and decor ideas for real clients.
- To learn team coordination, vendor handling and time management under pressure.
- To build leadership and communication skills in a professional environment.

2. About the Organization

Glitz Events India is a premier event management company specializing in luxury weddings, corporate events and grand celebrations. The company was founded in 2024 and operates from Greater Noida (West), Uttar Pradesh. Its tagline, “Events that Glitz, Memories that Shine”, reflects its focus on creating immersive experiences that match the personality and prestige of its clients rather than simply organizing functions.

Services offered

- Event Planning and Execution: end-to-end management of an event, from first idea to final wrap-up.
- Thematic Decor and Styling: custom concepts and luxury thematic decor designed around the client's vision.
- Entertainment and Celebrity Management: artist booking, celebrity appearances and stage coordination.
- Venue Scouting and Management: finding suitable venues and handling logistical coordination.
- Catering and Hospitality: food experiences and guest hospitality management.
- Photography and Videography: cinematic coverage of the event.
- Custom Solutions: tailored packages for private celebrations, corporate galas and high-profile events.

The company also handles destination weddings, including venue scouting in different locations, guest hospitality and local coordination. Customization is described as the company's main strength, with every theme created specifically for the client.

Working process

Glitz Events India follows a clear five-step process for every event:

1. Consultation: understanding the client's vision, style and expectations.
2. Concept and Budgeting: developing creative themes and aligning them with a realistic financial plan.
3. Planning and Coordination: managing logistics and selecting vendors to build a smooth foundation.
4. Execution with Perfection: on-ground management with careful timing on the event day.
5. Wrap-up and Feedback: post-event review to ensure client satisfaction and collect insights.

Understanding this process was central to my internship, because my creative work fit mainly into steps two to four.

3. Internship Details

- Designation: Creative Lead
- Organization: Glitz Events India, Greater Noida (West)
- Start date: June 2026

- Nature of work: Creative planning, thematic decor and styling, team leadership and event execution support
- Events covered: Most of the company's recent events, including [name 2-3 key events here]

As Creative Lead, I was not limited to a single task. I worked across the event cycle, which gave me a complete picture of how an event takes shape from the first discussion to the final day.

4. Roles and Responsibilities

My main responsibilities during the internship were:

- Concept development: preparing creative themes and ideas for events based on the client's brief, occasion and budget.
- Decor and styling direction: deciding the look and feel of stages, entrances, seating areas and other key spaces, including colour schemes and material choices.
- Team coordination: guiding team members and decor staff so that everyone worked toward the same visual idea.
- Vendor and artist coordination: working with decorators, designers and other vendors to ensure the creative plan was delivered as intended.
- On-ground execution: supervising setup on the event day, checking details and solving last-minute problems.
- Client communication support: presenting ideas, taking feedback and making changes while keeping the overall concept intact.

5. Work Done During the Internship

5.1 Pre-event stage

Before every event, my work began with understanding what the client wanted. After the initial consultation, I helped convert the discussion into a theme, a colour palette and a decor plan. Ideas were adjusted according to the venue, the number of guests and the available budget. This stage taught me that a good concept is not only attractive but also practical and achievable within time and cost limits.

5.2 Planning and coordination

Once the concept was approved, the focus moved to planning. This included preparing decor requirements, coordinating with vendors, finalizing the setup schedule and making sure that every team member knew their responsibility. Clear communication at this stage prevented most problems later.

5.3 Event-day execution

On the event day, I was present on the ground to supervise the setup and make sure the final look matched the approved concept. Tasks included checking stage and entrance decor, arranging lighting and styling elements, managing the team and resolving small issues quickly so that guests only experienced a smooth event.

5.4 Events handled

Since joining in June, I have worked on almost all the events organized by the company. Some of them are listed below.

Event	Type	Date / Month	My contribution
[Event 1]	[Wedding / Corporate / Private]	[Month]	[Theme, decor, coordination]
[Event 2]	[Type]	[Month]	[Contribution]
[Event 3]	[Type]	[Month]	[Contribution]

5.5 Post-event review

After each event, I took part in reviewing what went well and what could be improved. Client feedback and team observations helped me understand which creative choices worked best and where planning or timing could be better next time.

6. Skills and Learnings

Professional and creative skills

- Turning a client's idea into a clear visual concept and theme.
- Understanding how decor, lighting, colour and layout work together to create atmosphere.
- Managing budgets and time while protecting the quality of the final result.
- Understanding the full event workflow, from consultation to wrap-up.

Soft skills

- Leadership: guiding a team, delegating tasks and taking responsibility for the final outcome.
- Communication: explaining ideas clearly to clients, vendors and team members.
- Problem solving: responding calmly to last-minute changes.
- Adaptability: working with different types of events, clients and venues.
- Teamwork: coordinating with people from different roles toward one common goal.

The biggest lesson I learned is that creativity in event management is only valuable when it is combined with planning and discipline. A brilliant idea that cannot be delivered on time has no value for the client.

7. Challenges Faced and How I Handled Them

Challenge	How it was handled
Tight deadlines and last-minute changes from clients	Kept backup options ready and communicated changes to the team immediately
Balancing creative ideas with limited budgets	Selected the elements that gave the highest visual impact and simplified the rest

Challenge	How it was handled
Coordinating many people and vendors at once	Shared clear schedules and responsibilities in advance and followed up regularly
Pressure on the event day	Stayed calm, prioritized the most important tasks and solved problems step by step

These challenges improved my decision-making and showed me the importance of preparation.

8. Observations and Suggestions

Strengths observed

- A strong focus on customization, with themes developed specifically for each client.
- A clearly defined five-step process that keeps events organized.
- A wide service range, from decor and entertainment to hospitality and photography, which allows clients to rely on a single company.

Suggestions

- Maintaining a digital portfolio of past events and themes would help new team members and clients understand the company's style quickly.
- Creating standard checklists for setup and event-day tasks could further reduce last-minute pressure.
- Regular post-event feedback sessions can help turn each event's experience into a lasting improvement in the next one.

9. Conclusion

My internship at Glitz Events India has been a valuable and practical learning experience. Working as Creative Lead since June gave me the chance to contribute to most of the company's recent events and to see how concept, planning and execution come together in real situations. I developed creative, organizational and leadership skills that cannot be gained from textbooks alone.

The experience has strengthened my confidence in handling responsibility, working with teams and delivering results under pressure. It has also given me a clearer understanding of the event management industry and how much effort goes into every celebration that looks effortless to the guests. I am thankful to Glitz Events India and IILM University for this opportunity, and I will carry these learnings into my future career.
